

SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 20, 1893,

IT is reported that Colonel O'Ferrall, should be receive the gubernatorial nomination, will not resign his seat in Congress until after the election. But an extra session of Congress will be held before that election, at which Virginia will want all her representatives to be on hand daily and do what their votes are capable of doing to reduce the tariff, purge the pension rolls, settle the currency, and lay an income tax, and it is as impossible for a man as well as for a thing to be in two places at the same time? And then, too, why the necessity for the expense of a special congressional, immediately after the gubernatorial election, when that expense could be saved by holding both at the same time. The fact that if they were, federal supervisors might be at the polls, would certainly make no difference in a district with over five thousand democratic majority. But the report referred to has not been substantiated, and its correctness is doubted, as its truth would not be calculated to improve the Colonel's chance of nomination.

THE ratio of suicide and insanity to population in this country has increased enormously during the last thirty years. That such should have been the case, however, is by no means strange, as during that period the desire for money and the disappointment naturally incident thereto, have greatly increased, and infidelism has become so prevalent, under the teachings of Mr. Ingersoll and his apostles, that the dread of future punishment for sins committed in the flesh, has been dissipated in the minds of many, so pointed to a messengership. While there he spoke a good word for Mr that they don't hesitate to die in order to escape the ills their own folly has brought upon them.

UNDER THE law, thousands of negroes from their native heath could land in this country and become voters, without being compelled to wear tags and have their photographs arranged as in a rogues' gallery. But, also under the law, not only are the Chinese, an intelligent, industrious and thrifty race, refused admission to the country, but those who are here at work must submit to the indignities referred to or else be driven back to the land of their birth. And yet the United States ridiculously pose as the home of the of the other officeseekers from that oppressed of all the nations of the city, as that position is estimated as

When a race-horse man talks this way about his competitors, what possible show can the man have for his money who bets on his own knowledge of horseflesh? In the olden time horse-racing was conducted by honorable and reputable people, but it's different now.

MR. CARL SCHURZ says the President is "beset with politicians whose advice is for their own, not his or the country's advantage." This is about the wisest thing that has ever emanated from a mugwump source, and Mr. Cleveland could not profit himself more than by heeding it. The majority of congressmen recommend for office personal friends, or those who have helped them, or from whom they expect help hereafter, and not for the good either of the party at large or that of the public service.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] WASHINGTON, D. C., May 20. Mr. Logan Carlisle, son of the Secre-tary, and chief clerk of the Treasury Department, told the GAZETTE's correspondent to-day that there is no law nor written rule prohibiting all others except ex-Union soldiers from places on the watchmen's roll of that department, and that that prohibition is discretionary with the Secretary, who is solely responsible for it. It was not strictly observed during the last, but has been and will continue to be under the present administration. The reason for it, he said, was that by giving that whole class to ex-Union soldiers, the pressure of other ex-Union soldiers for all the other places in the department was lessened, and those places opened to WINCHESTER, Va., May 19, 1893.

The committee on clerical support reported that 7 churches had paid more than the salary promised their rector, and that 10 were delinquent.

The order of places of meeting of the council was changed so as to be Winchester, Richmond, Charlottesville, Alexandria and Fredericksburg.

A petition was offered from Bruton parish, Williamsburg, asking that the council approve of the restoration of York and James City counties to the old diocese. This was unanimously carried. The petition must also go to the council of the Southern diocese and then be brought before the General Convention before these counties can come back. The report of the committee on the brotherhood which is organized to provide a sum payable to a clergyman' family at his death, was next presented. Four members were reported dead during the past year. It is hoped there will be greater interest manifested in the brotherhood than for some years past. The appointment of a board of managers was recommended by the council. A resolution in memory of Dr Dashiell was unanimously carried by the council in which his faithful and efficient work as secretary for upwards of a quarter of a century was affectionatea gumnathy of the council extended to his family.

An able and interesting report on the state of the church was read by the chairman of the committee, Rev. C. E. Grammer. It called attention to the changed relations brought about by the division of the diocese, pointed to the unifying influences of the Woman's Auxiliary and St. Andrew's Brotherhood, reminded the council that there was yet much missionary work in the tide-water and mountain districts urged a college education for candidates for holy orders and trusted that amidst the changes that come with the vears the old type of Virginia church manship may still be preserved as it has been and must ever remain an important factor in the development of the church at large. The Southern Churchman and Protestant Episcopal Review were commended to the diocese A deep feeling of thankfulness was expressed for the great improvement in the Bishop's health, and while his care for the diocese was cordially acknowledged, it was felt that the diocese should care for him, and give him assist ance whenever needed.

FRIDAY 4 O'CLOCK, P. M. The council met for business at the above hour. Bishop Whittle appointed Revs. Dr. Newton, J. K. Mason, and Messrs. F. H. McGuire and J. Alston Cabell as a committee of conference with the authorities of the Southern dio cese on the relations of both dioceses to the Virginia Female Institute. The board of managers for the broth erhood was next appointed as follows Messrs. J. F. Glenn, B. B. Valentine, Alfriend, F. H. McGuire and Cyrus Bossieux. An attempt was made to change the day of the week on which the council assembles annually, but this was laid on the table.

The council then adjourned sine die with the usual exercises.

A meeting of the woman's auxiliary of the diocese was held on Thursday preceded by a sermon from the Rev L. W. Burton, of Richmond, with holy communion. The annual report was made by Miss Sallie Stuart, of Alexandria, and reports were presented by the several branch secretaries. Much good work has been done and it is hoped that the auxiliary may spread to all the parishes.

At night on Thursday a meeting was held in the interest of foreign missions. Excellent addresses were delivered by Rev. Professor Nelson on the mission in Brazil, Rev. F. L. Hawks Pott, missionary to China on the work in that country and by Dr. Langford, of New York, on the general work of missions. Dr. Langford and Rev. F. L. THE INFANTA EULALIE.

The Infanta Eulalie and suite arrived in Washington at 8:20 last night and were met by Secretary Gresham on behalf of the President.

An immense crowd gathered in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania Railroad station more than an hour before the train arrived. The attaches of the Spanish legation were there as early as 7 o'clock.

Four troops of the United States cavdry, under Colonel Henry, from Fort Myer, formed in line on the Sixth street side of the station.

Secretary Gresham and Assistant Secretary Quincy came shortly after the arrival of the cavalry in Mr. Gresham's carriage, followed almost immediately by a handsome barouche drawn by four magnificent bay horses. It was President Cleveland's carriage, and the President's coachman, with a new footman, were on the box. The carriage was empty.

Secretary Gresham, State Department officials and the party from the Spanish legation walked nearer to the racks and the train came to a standstill. The Princess was the first to alight. She was assisted from the train by Commander Davis.

The Spanish Minister, Senor Maraugua, was just behind the Princess, but before he could alight Secretary Gresham pressed forward, and Commander Davis presented him to the Infanta as the representative of the President. The Princess and Secretary Gresham greeted each other pleasantly, and then other members of the receiving party gathered about them.

When the Infanta saw Mrs. Curry there was a pretty scene. The two had known each other intimately in Madrid, and the recognition was followed by a warm hand clasp, while Mrs. Curry imprinted a kiss on each cheek of the Princess. The Princess chatted gaily in English with Mr. Gresham all the while The Infanta, Secretary Gresham, Minister Maruagua and Prince Antoine entered the President's carriage, the cavalrymen saluted and the procession began to move up Pennsylania avenue toward the Arlington.

Davis bade the party good night.

The Infanta Eulalie is the aunt of the boy King of Spain. An infante is a prince and an infanta is a princess of the blood-royal of Spain. The full name of our guest is Marie-Eulalie-Francoise d'Assise-Marguerite-Roberte-Isabella-Françoise de Pauli-Christine Marie dela Piete. She is the daughter of the famous Isabella II, who was driven out of Spain by Generals Prim and Serva-no in 1868. The choice of Isabella's successor was the ostensible cause of the Franco-Prussian war. The throne of Spain was to have been offered to Leopold of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, but Napoleon III demanded the withdrawal of his candidacy and Armedeus, the second son of Victor Emmanuel of Italy, accepted the throne in 1870. Three years later he abdicted and a republican government was tried for a time. In 1874 the throne was offered Isabelle. He routed the Carlist insurgents and reigned until his death, in 1885. Upon the occurrence of that event his daughter, Maria de la Merce-des, was proclaimed Queen in November, 1885, with her mother as regent.
May 17, 1886, a post-humous son was born to the late King, and he was proclaimed King, and he is now the King of Spain, his mother, Christina, daughter of the Archduke Karl Ferdinand, of Austria, continuing as regent.

The Infanta Eulalie belongs to the house of Bourbon. She was born at Madrid, February 12, 1863, and is the sister of the late King Alfonso XII. She is described as a lady of great beauty, sprightliness and wit, with affable manners and a generous disposition. Her husband, who accompanies her to America, is her cousin, Antoine Louis Philippe Marie, Prince of Bourbon-Orleans and son of the Duc de Monpensier. He is two years younger than his wife. They were married in 1886 at Madrid, where they now live. They have two scns, Alfonso, six years, and Louis Fernando, four years old.

A Call on the President.

President and Mrs. Cleveland received the commissioners of and visitors to the General Assembly in the East room of the White House yesterday evening. Dr. Craig, the moderator, was presented to the President by Dr. Bartlett, chairman of the committee of arrangements, and made a brief, felicitous address, in the course of which he said: "Sir, let me congratulate you upon the fact that sturdy Presbyterians hedge you round about, and that the sturdiest Presbyterian of us all is at your side, a holy benediction to keep you straight to the faith of your ancestors, which is not only the great assurance of success, but is the highway to the immediate presence of the living God. I am not much inclined to the common saying, 'You must be obedient unto your wives.' I never was yet enabled to do that as I have been officiating around the holy altar. But, sir, as you are entitled to give us not only in-struction from your high place, but order, now I have this little chance to give you an instruction, and tell you, be obedient to her. I have but one word more to say, sir. You talk with a man who represents 2,500 people who don't want a single office." [Applause.] President Cleveland in the course of his response said : "I assure you it af-

The Infanta in Washington. WASHINGTON, May 20 .- A day perfect in every respect greeted the royal party this morning. The arrangements made last night by Secretary Gresham fixed the hour for the call by the Princess Eulalia and her party upon the President at 11 o'clock, and five minutes before that time two handsome carriages drove up to the Arlington. Promptly at 11 o'clock the door opened and the royal party proceeded to the carriages. There was no demonstration. A running crowd of welldressed women and small boys heralded the approach of the Infanta and her party to the White House. Commander Davis alighted first, followed by the ity, but only eight were hurt and none Spanish Minister and Prince Antoine. The Prince assisted the Princess to alight and offered her his arm and escorted her through the main doorway into the corridor of the private part of the mansion. The Duke, the Marchioness and the private secretary of the Princess followed. In the Blue Room the President and Mrs. Cleveland stood ready to receive their royal visitors. Senor Maraugua, the Spanish minister, presented the Infanta and Prince Antoine, while the others of the party wiihdrew to the adjoining Red Room. The greetings between those in the Blue Room were very pleasant and had hardly a tinge of formality about them. They were over in a minute or two and then the others were summoned and presented in turn by Senor Maruagua. Mrs. Cleveland and the Infanta chatted briskly in English during part of the brief visit while at times the conversation was general. At fifteen minutes past eleven the Infanta made her adieu, followed by the others. A slight pause occurred on the portico and then there was a general uncovering of heads as the Princess entered her carriage and whisked away to the Arlington. The party will remain in Washington until Thursday when the return to New York will be made. The Princess will by invitation dine at the White House

WASHINGTON, May 20 .- Among the interesting reports submitted to the General Assembly during its session today was that of the special committee on young people's societies. The committee also says that uniformity is desirable in the recognition by the societies of subjection to the session of the church and work to educate members in the doctrines, polity, history and present activities of the church. In connection with the report the committee presented a series of resolutions commending the work of the young people's societies; recommending that the members inform themselves in regard to the missionary and other agencies of the to Alfonso XII, the son of the exiled church; that presbyteries appoint standing committees on young people's societies, and that presbyterial organizations of young people be formed wherever expedient.

When the train reached that point it was flagged by four masked men and a demand for money made upon the conductor. The latter refused to surrender anything and signalled the engineer to pull out. As the train started four U. S. soldiers who were aboard appeared, and at the sight of them a general fire was started by the bandits. Nobody was hurt however. United States Deputy Marshal Thomas having got off the train was left behind when it started.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

At daylight this morning Benjamin McCal lough, teller of the State Bank of St. Louis was found dead in the doorway of his resi dence at the suburban village of Ferguson. By his side was a gun and revolver The shotgun was the property of Mr. McCulloughbut the owner of the revolver is unknown. It is supposed the murder was committed by James McKevitt, a dynamiter who as early succeeded in laying all the public buildings of Liverpool in ruins, arrived in New York yesterday. Hon, James Paul, ex-Senator from Kney unty, Ohio, has disappeared and it is believed he has been murdered and robbed. The sentences against MM, de Lesseps, Cat

tu. Fontane and Eiffel are to be quashed by the Court de Cassation of Paris. A SENATORIAL FIGHT .- A Richmond correspondent of Petersburg Appeal says: "There is a pretty fight in prospect in Richmond in which the senatorial contest is involved. Fitz Lee's friends are working with a view to having the legislative nomination made early in July, They hope to get the candidates instructed for the General and thus give his boom a good start. The supporters of Tom Martin are opposing the movement with all the force they can muster. Chairman Patteson, of the city democratic committee, who is credited with being a Martinite, has been asked to call that body for Tuesday night to decide when nominations shall be made but has refused to do so. To-day a suf ficient number of members signed a call to force Mr. Patteson to convene the body. The advocates of early nominations claim to have enough members in the committee to carry their point. The candidates as a rule, want the nominations made as soon as practicable. Mr. Patteson takes the ground that October will be the proper time to name the ticket and gives good reasons for thinking so."
